

Manolo Mendez Sonoma Clinic May 4thth-9th

From his beginning as a founding member and Head Rider of the Real Escuela Andaluza del Arte, Spain.

To today, training dressage riders and working with horses in-hand from training to GP, internationally.

Manolo embraces the ideals of Article 401 of the FEI Rule book and produces calm, supple, loose and flexible horses that are also confident, attentive and keen by using soft, empathetic training methods.

"I have worked with many international trainers and coaches and Manolo has the best understanding of the horse from the horse's point of view. I have complete trust in his training methods, totally agree with them and they compliment what I try to instill in my students as well. The horse's best interest is never compromised and at the same time the potential of the horse can be fully reached."

Mary Flood, USDF Certified Trainer and Competitor, winner Grand Prix at Devon and Festival of Champions, USDF Bronze, Silver, Gold Medalist, <http://www.wildfirefarm.com/>

"Manolo is not just a master of dressage, he is a master of dressage as therapy for horses."
